TECHNOLOGY LEARNING WITH ELDERLY LEARNERS

Scenario: Many elderly people have no skills for using modern technology and some of them might even afraid of it. In modern world there are some services that are provided mostly via technology (e.g. bank services). How could we help the elderly people to learn how to use technology that helps in everyday life? How can these elderly learners support each other in their learning process? What kinds of tasks is appropriate to provide to this kind of learner group? What special needs do they have?